Children Living with their Families

Community-based Supports

Provided to promote stability for the child and their families.

Precipitating Event

Child acts out at home or school. Becomes unsafe to self and/or others. Requires a higher level of care.

Assessment & Referral

Assessment determines type of care needed for child to be safely stabilized. Then clinicians determine where to send the child for care.

Discharged Home With or Without Community Supports

Child remains stable or a precipitating event occurs again, repeating the cycle.

Residential Treatment

Child placed in a residential setting to live and receive ongoing treatment.

Short-term Intensive Treatment

Child stabilized in an inpatient setting or similar level of care.

Step-Down Care

Discharged to step-down facility if this level of care exists in state/community.

Child Welfare Involvement

State and/or family determine the family cannot safely care for child. Custody relinquished.

Discharged Home With or Without Community Supports

Child remains stable or a precipitating event occurs again, repeating the cycle.

Placement in Kinship Care or Foster Home Child & foster

family receives supports. Child remains stable or precipitating event occurs

Child Welfare Involvement

State and/or family determine the family cannot safely care for child. Custody relinquished.

Placement in Kinship Care or Foster Home Child & foster

family receives supports. Child remains stable or precipitating event occurs

Children in Child Welfare

Community-based Supports

Provided to promote stability for the child and their families.

Precipitating Event

Child acts out at home or school.

Becomes unsafe to self and/or others.

Requires a higher level of care.

Discharged to Original Foster

Home Child and foster family may or may not get community supports. Child remains stable or a precipitating event occurs

New Placement Occurs

State and/or foster family determine they cannot safely care for child. Child placed with new foster family with or without community supports. Child remains stable or precipitating event occurs again.

Assessment & Referral

Assessment determines type of care needed for child to be safely stabilized. Then clinicians determine where to send the child for care.

Residential Treatment

Child placed in a residential setting to live and receive ongoing treatment.

Short-term Intensive Treatment

Child stabilized in an inpatient setting or similar level of care.

Step-Down Care

Discharged to step-down facility if this level of care exists in state/community.

Discharged to Original Foster

Home Child and foster family may or may not get community supports. Child remains stable or a precipitating event occurs

New Placement Occurs

State and/or foster family determine they cannot safely care for child. Child placed with new foster family with or without community supports. Child remains stable or precipitating event occurs again.

